

Thanksgiving Causes Galore; Nation Prospers, Says Chief

President Coolidge has proclaimed Thursday, November 26, as Thanksgiving Day, when gratitude should be expressed for "many and great blessings," which have come to the people during the past year.

The nation has been brought with safety and honor through another twelve months, the proclamation said, at peace at home and abroad, with the public health good, with harvests and industries productive and labor well rewarded.

The proclamation follows:
By the President of the United States
OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION
The season approaches when, in accordance with a long established and respected custom, a day is set apart to give thanks to Almighty God for the manifold blessings which His Gracious and Benevolent providence has bestowed upon us as a nation and as individuals.

We have been brought with safety and honor through another year, and through the generosity of nature, He has blessed us with resources whose potentiality in wealth is almost incalculable; we are at peace at home and abroad; the public health is good; we have been undisturbed by pestilence or great catastrophe; our harvests and our industries have been rich in productivity; our commerce spreads over the whole world, and labor has been well rewarded for its remunerative service.

As we have grown and prospered in material things, so also should we progress in moral and spiritual things. We are a God-fearing people who should set ourselves against evil and strive for righteousness in living, and observing the golden rule, we should from our abundance help and serve those less fortunately placed. We should bow in gratitude to God for his many favors.

Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby set apart Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November, next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and I recommend that on that day the people shall cease from their work and in their homes or in their accustomed places of worship, devoutly give thanks to the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received, and to seek His guidance that they might deserve a continuance of His favor.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this twenty-sixth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and fiftieth.

(Seal) CALVIN COOLIDGE,
By the President.
FRANK B. KELLOGG,
Secretary of State.

The Longed For Pet.

By MARY S. STOVER

Under the title, "Daydreams," our local paper has been running a series of small boy cartoons. In one of them the lad is presented as having brought home a very scrawny, unkempt dog. Both the boys mother and a crisp, ginghamed little sister beam their welcome while neither declares that of course he may keep the stray.

Who can say how many children have dreamed a similar dream about some real dog, only to meet with pathetic disillusionment? Indeed, that picture suggests one of the major tragedies of childhood, though it is a sorrow that might always be lightened, if not averted, by thoughtfulness and sympathy.

Few homes can extend hospitality to every animal that children would like to adopt, yet it is exasperatingly difficult to conceive a boy or girl of the reasonableness of understanding what problems arise from the meagre limits of a city apartment or the exactions of landlords, janitor and fellow tenants. What, to them, is our prudent care to avoid dirt, vermin and disease.

The very fact that children view the matter so differently should be a challenge to our sympathy and tact. How careful we are, how lavish of cost and effort to meet fittingly some situation that will leave little impression on these childish hearts, while we fail even to recognize the significance of moments that are destined to hold a large place in their memories.

That is because we have forgotten too much. We look at things through dull, grown up spectacles and it is the fresh vision of youth that is needed. Children cannot shift at will to the viewpoint of maturity.

We know by observation, if not by personal experience, how much a pet can mean to a child. The stray dog or cat appeals also to innate childish chivalry, so that the discussion of the creature's fate becomes a great occasion. Let us recognize it as such and curb any temptation to impatience or seemingly heartlessness.

When other people ask our agreement to something that we feel is out of the question we take to us words of courteous explanation and regret. Why should it not be so when the petitioner is a child we love desiring what seems to him or her a perfectly natural privilege?

The very effort to see the child's side of the question has led many a parent to welcome an animal that would otherwise have been driven sharply away; and it was usually a fortunate relaying, for most boys and girls, if not their elders, need the spiritual influences that come from caring for something that is alive and enjoying its companionship. Many a selfish only child has been made into a social being through tending dependent pets.

FIRST DANCE OF WEEK IS ON TONIGHT

Fred Lynch to Sing Yodel
Song, One of Minstrel Show Hits.

The first dance of the week is on tonight at the A. B. Hall, given by the Alaskans and indications are there will be a large attendance. Poppy music, new selections, the same popular brand of dance selections that have been characterizing the dances recently, will be put over and the Alaskans are ready "to go."

Owing to the popular requests made from all sources, Fred Lynch will sing his yodel song which was one of the big hits at the Elks Minstrel show last Tuesday and Wednesday nights. This will be rendered at 11 o'clock. Lynch will also sing choruses of popular dance selections played during the evening, especially those which went over good at the minstrel show.

DATES SET FOR RED CROSS ROLL CALL IN JUNEAU

November 17 and 18 Designated as Local Drive Days —Quota $1,000.

The drive for the Ninth Annual American Red Cross Roll Call will be conducted in this city November 17 and 18 this year it was announced today by Harry Sperling, Chairman for Juneau Chapter. The dates were decided on at a meeting of Mr. Sperling, Mrs. J. H. Dunn, in charge of the drive in the residential district and John Newmarker, in charge of the drive in the local business district, last night.

The quota for Juneau has been set at $1,000 by Chairman Sperling. In the past few years the maximum amount raised was given as about $750 each year.

"We will have to work hard and consistently to meet the quota but with the sincere and earnest co-operation of the drive chairmen I have every confidence the amount will be raised," said Sperling.

"The system on which we plan to work this year is that members of the drive committees will make it a point to see every resident in Juneau personally and in this way we are certain there will be no difficulty in making the Roll Call for 1925 a big success in Juneau."

In order that people now in Juneau who will leave the city before the dates set for the drive may subscribe to the local Roll Call Chairman Sperling has placed signs in the local steamship offices and supplied the agents with buttons, list sheets and the authority to accept all subscriptions for the Red Cross. In this way, should a resident forget to subscribe before leaving he may be reminded just before his departure.

"Everyone, it is understood, intends to subscribe to the Red Cross somewhere and this measure is taken that people belonging to Juneau may solicit to their home roll call, which will thereby be swelled," said the Chairman.

Tomorrow is designated nationally as Red Cross Sunday and the ministers of Juneau have assured Chairman Sperling that mention of the Roll Call will be made in their services in the local churches.

Mr. Sperling must leave Juneau about next Tuesday, going south on a business trip and he is leaving the management of the drive entirely to Mrs. Dunn and Mr. Newmarker.

"I have every confidence in the two who are in charge of the city subscription and am sure that under their direction the drive cannot be anything but a success," said Mr. Sperling.

Mrs. Dunn and Mr. Newmarker will appoint their assistants next week.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 7.—It is conservatively estimated that at least $3,000,000 was left in Winnipeg by American tourists during the past season. One well informed business man places the amount spent by motor tourists alone at $2,000,000. Contributions by tourists coming by train amounted to at least another $1,000,000. The visit of the American Legionnaires alone brought 7,000 people to the city.

WAR VETERAN IS A SUICIDE

Rejected at Soldiers' Home, Unlucky in Purchases, He Shoots Himself.

BILLINGS, Mont., Nov. 7.—John Burkman, aged 36, who braved the dangers of war and was eleven years orderly for General George A. Custer, shot himself dead yesterday. He saddled the horse Custer rode into the last battle with the Indians at Little Big Horn.

Burkman recently went to Sawtelle, Cal., to enter the Soldiers' Home and was hurt at rejection because he received a pension of $72 monthly. A taxicab driver charged him $5 each way for the ride to and from the Home.

Artificial teeth he purchased in California irritated him and he threw them away. He said he had the same experience with a pair of glasses and a pair of boots. When he returned to Billings he expressed a desire to die, to end it all by "throwing his money away."

—A boy of 12 went to his teacher and handed in the following note from his mother before taking his seat:

Dear Sir—Please excuse James for not being present yesterday. He played truant, but you needn't whip him for it, as the boy he played truant with and him fell out, and he licked James; and a man they threw stones at caught him and licked him; and the driver of a cart they hung on licked him, and the owner of a cat they chased licked him. Then I licked him when he came home, after which his father licked him; and I had to give him another for being impudent to me for telling his father. So you need not lick him until next time.—Altoona Tribune.
